The Bombardier Global Express has established a standard in corporate aviation, flying farther, faster than any other business aircraft while accessing the most challenging airfields in isolated locations. It is certified to the European (JAA) and North American (FAA & Transport Canada) airworthiness authorities' stringent regulations. And, for those for whom comfort is a pre-requisite and productivity a way of life, the Bombardier Global Express is the only business jet engineered specifically to provide precious time savings in the most comfortable and productive cabin environment, as well as the ultra-long range capabilities needed to bring the most remote destinations closer to home in less time.
