Why Air Charter Scotland?

2.1 Safety

Your safety is our top priority. We adhere to the most rigorous safety standards in the world. Air Charter Scotland is independently audited by Wyvern, which verifies our compliance with the prestigious Wingman accreditation, only awarded to elite carriers who are industry leaders in operational safety. We recruit, train and retain the best flight crew in the business.

2.2 Crew

Our pilots and cabin crew are employed full-time and trained to the highest possible standards.

All pilots go through simulator training every 6 months, without exception. Only the most experienced pilots who specialise in operating your specific aircraft will fly you to your destination.

2.3 Procurement

Our operations department work hard to ensure economies of scale are achieved that will increase efficiency and productivity. Our team will negotiate the best prices and pass substantial savings as a benefit to our owners. Our considerable purchasing power will achieve cost savings in the following areas:

- » Fuel
- » Aircraft Insurance
- » Aircraft Maintenance
- » Crew Training
- » Crew Travel
- » Landing and Handling costs

Aircraft Maintenance

The aircraft will be added to Air Charter Scotland Ltd's Civil Aviation Authority approved Maintenance Programme and maintained to the highest possible standards. Air Charter Scotland will provide full CAMO (Continuous Airworthiness Management Organisation) support.

We will co-ordinate and supervise the scheduled and unscheduled maintenance inputs. As part of the service our team will check and approve all invoices received from the maintenance repair organisation, before being passed over to the Owner for approval.

Aircraft engineering is a critical part of managing our fleet. We follow the most stringent maintenance procedures in private aviation. The history of each aircraft is documented in meticulous detail on our systems and integrated with bespoke service and maintenance programmes. Our engineering teams receive specialised training from every aircraft manufacturer we represent and conform to all the latest safety and compliance regulations.

Our team oversees the upkeep of aircraft interiors and paintwork, ensuring your jet looks and feels luxurious at all times. Our team will also advise on refurbishment, whenever required. New carpets, upholstery, and updated entertainment systems are just some of the projects we have managed for our clients.

Charter

Air Charter Scotland is the preferred private jet operator for some of the world's biggest brands, leaders and celebrities. We aim to deliver the best service in the aviation business, accommodating demanding schedules, complex itineraries and last-minute changes. This is what we do best.

We can leverage aircraft downtime and maximize revenue by marketing your jet as part of our charter fleet. It costs money to keep a plane on the ground. We'll make sure your aircraft is in the air as much as possible.

Our Sales team work with the world's leading aircraft charter brokers to exceed all expectations and we enjoy long established client relationships.

For all charters, we will seek owners' approval before we confirm a flight with a customer. However should a conflict of dates arise between a charter and an owner's trip we are happy to offer another aircraft to the owner from our current fleet.
